

EDUC 3000: DIVERSITY OF LEARNERS AND SETTINGS IN EDUCATION

INSTRUCTIONAL OBJECTIVES

- $ To learn about the historical, philosophical, legal, ethical, and social issues associated with the extensive range of differences among learners.

- $ To build awareness, acquire knowledge, and develop skills in communicating and interacting with students, parents and colleagues of differing backgrounds and perspectives. Such backgrounds and perspectives include attention to the following variables: ethnicity, culture, language, socioeconomic status, lifestyle, religion, age, and exceptionality.

- $ To examine students' motivation for seeking a career in education and the ways in which their backgrounds and experiences affect their world view and their view of education.
