

The College of Sciences and Mathematics

The Society of Women in Sciences and Mathematics

The Society of Women in Sciences and Mathematics invites you to join us for a panel discussion and luncheon

"From Chemistry to Castro: Adventures of an Accidental Scientist"

featuring keynote speaker

Rossanne Philen, M.D., M.S.

Captain, U.S. Public Health Service, Regular Corps
Medical Director of the Epidemic Information Exchange
(Epi-X) at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Atlanta, Georgia

The Hotel at Auburn University & Dixon Conference Center
Ballroom B

Friday, August 25, 2006

Registration - 9:30 a.m.

Panel Discussion - 10:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m.

Lunch and program - 11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

Our mission as members of the Society of Women in Sciences and Mathematics is to be leaders and role models committed to increasing awareness of opportunities available for women in the fields of sciences and mathematics, as well as providing support to ensure success.

www.auburn.edu/cosam/swsm

Reserve your seat or table today by completing the information below and sending it to: Betty Adcock

315 Roosevelt Concourse

Auburn University, AL 36849

Individual Seats $35 Table (8 seats) $250

Name: _____

Address: _____ # of Seats - _____

City, State, Zip: _____ # of Tables - _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

Please make checks payable to AU Foundation
For an internal transfer or credit card, contact Betty Adcock at 334.844.1642 or adcocba@auburn.edu