Construction underway across campus

Construction continues across all of campus as the spring semester gets into full swing. Facilities has 10 projects underway across campus at varying degrees of completion.

Currently being constructed are the Equestrian Facility Phase 1 Improvements, Poultry Science Research Building, South College Street Parking Deck, Brown-Kopel Engineering Student Achievement Center, Graduate Business Building, Jay and Susie Gogue Performing Arts Center, Goodwin Hall Band Rehearsal Addition, Leach Science Center Addition, Recreation Field Expansion and the Students Activities Center Renovation.

About $238 million has been spent on these projects, which encompass more than 480,000 square feet of campus. More projects are expected to begin construction throughout the year following approval through the Board of Trustees.

The next buildings to come online are Leach and Graduate Business, both estimated for spring completion dates. The performing arts center is slated for August.

In 2018, Facilities completed 14 different projects including the Delta Aviation Center, Gavin Engineering Research Laboratory and Harbert Family Recruiting Center. About $114 million was used to create the new spaces, occupying more than 247,000 square feet of the university.
