Job Summary
Directs the financial management activities to support the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, which includes managing the departmental budget, reviewing and approving all academic budgets, and reviewing, negotiating and signing various agreements. Serves as the liaison to Budget Services, and Vice Presidents and Directors in Business and Finance.

Essential Functions

1. Reviews and approves all aspects of all academic budgets; plays an integral part in the development of the timeline, developing content for training and public presentations to various constituencies, and communicating all elements of the strategic budget model.

2. Responsible for the annual budget for the Office of the Provost and subordinate offices and all financial affairs including financial forecasting, planning, and monitoring; analyzes financial and budget data for efficiencies, opportunities for investment in strategic initiatives, and best practices; assists in the review of competitive requests for funding as part of a committee or for recommendations to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs; develops business processes around various programmatic opportunities in the Office of the Provost (Scholarship Incentive Program, Professional Improvement Leave, as examples).

3. Trains budget managers in the colleges/schools (and other groups as requested) through multiple avenues of communication including mail, retreat presentations, Provost Council, office hours, and one-on-one meetings.

4. Develops content for and oversees the maintenance of the Strategic Budget Initiative website content such as Frequently Asked Questions and presentation notes (with assistance from the Director of Strategic Initiative in the Office of the Provost).

5. Directly supervises an administrative staff member for the Office of the Provost.

6. Reviews internship/preceptorship affiliation agreements across all academic programs and negotiates language for compliance with Federal (HIPAA, FERPA), State (sovereign immunity) law, and University policy and practice (insurance, medical records, background check, etc.); signs agreements as the Provost's delegated signature authority; requests input from Risk Management and Safety, General Counsel, and contracting officers as needed. Reviews Professional Services Contracts from academic departments and offices that exceed $10,000 to ensure compliance with University policy (including handbooks) and state bid law.

7. Periodically identifies a team of professionals from various offices including, but not limited to, the Offices of Enrollment Management, Admissions, Registrar, Institutional Research, Student Financial Services, and manages a workflow to map, develop, test, and implement unique curriculum modeling and identification of specific student populations for retention, progression, billing, and contract management. (Examples of these activities includes process mapping for Shorelight Education and Everspring partnerships.)

8. Actively serves Auburn University through various shared governance avenues (Administrative and Professional Assembly, University Committees, etc.) and ad hoc work as assigned (search committees, competitive application reviewer, etc.).
