Explanation of rubric Excellent: Information presented is clear, accurate, and specific. The presentation and discussion is ethical, sophisticated, thorough, thoughtful, and ideally suited for the audience. Examples are presented from source material where appropriate. Good: Information presented is clear, accurate and fairly specific. Presentation and discussion are good, but could be addressed in more depth. Some examples from source material where appropriate. Fair: Information is presented in general terms. Presentation is poorly suited to audience and purpose, lacks awareness of ethics, and/or largely fails for intended purpose. Examples from source material are sporadic, or sources may not be wholly appropriate. Poor: Presented information lacks clarity. Presentation omits critical information, or does something other than the assignment required. Examples may be lacking or wholly absent. The project is discussed in only general terms.	General Comments
