JOB FAMILY AND FUNCTION

Job Family:	Student Resources
Job Function:	Admissions & Recruitment

JOB SUMMARY

The Admissions Advisor III serves as a senior advisor and leader on the undergraduate recruitment team, providing expert guidance to prospective students and families throughout the enrollment process. This role serves as a subject matter expert while maintaining an active advising caseload and managing complex, high-stakes recruitment territories. This senior-level role operates with significant independence and contributes to departmental planning, policy development, and leads continuous improvement initiatives.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Independently manages the most complex and strategically significant recruitment territories by assisting in developing and fully executing multi-year recruitment and enrollment strategies grounded in enrollment data, market analysis, and institutional priorities while maintaining established relationships with counselors and partner institutions across assigned territories. Conducts competitive market analysis and environmental scans to inform recruitment strategy.
- Serves as the primary point of contact for high school counselors, community-based organizations, educational partners, and regional counseling networks within assigned territories by building and sustaining strategic relationships that strengthen recruitment pipelines, support student pathways and expand institutional visibility.
- Provides expert-level admissions advising by responding across multiple communications channels to complex inquiries requiring advanced policy interpretation, delivering high-quality presentations, and serving as a knowledgeable resource on admissions requirements, academic pathways, and specialized programs or student populations.
- Conducts independent, expert-level application review by evaluating moderately complex applications using holistic assessment practices, making informed admission recommendations, achieving elevated review targets, and mentoring staff on review standards and decision-making frameworks.
- Assists with on-campus and off-campus recruitment and enrollment programs and events by leading signature events, delivering information sessions, assisting with training staff members on effective event management and execution strategies, and supporting set-up, logistics, and guest services.
- Contributes to departmental strategic recruitment planning by analyzing multi-dimensional enrollment trends, maintaining high-quality recruitment data, and applying predictive analytics to forecast outcomes for assigned territories.
- Completes required travel and expense documentation in compliance with university and departmental policies and procedures.
- Represents Auburn University and the Undergraduate Admissions office through leadership of regional partnership initiatives, partnering with other units to coordinate program-specific recruitment initiative and strategies, participation in national and regional professional organizations, and active engagement with NACAC affiliates and admissions committees.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Collaborates with campus partners to advance recruitment and student-success initiatives and performs other duties as assigned to support enrollment objectives.
- Models best practices in recruitment, advising, and student engagement by serving as a subject matter expert and primary resource for Advisors I and II, providing formal mentorship, coaching, and training on admissions policies, recruitment techniques, and complex advising situations.
- Identifies inefficiencies and risks in recruitment, application review, or operational processes and proposes solutions to improve effectiveness, consistency, and outcomes in support of departmental goals.

The responsibilities listed above show the typical duties for jobs in this classification. Actual tasks may differ depending on the department's needs. Other similar duties may be assigned with discretion of the supervisor. Not every duty will apply to every position, and the amount of time spent on each task can change based on department needs.

SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES

Supervisory Responsibility	May be responsible for training, assisting or assigning tasks to others. May provide input to performance reviews of other employees.
