JOB FAMILY AND FUNCTION

Job Family:	Student Resources
Job Function:	Admissions & Recruitment

JOB SUMMARY

The Assistant Director of Rural Recruitment will spearhead rural recruitment and matriculation initiatives within the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. This individual will develop and implement strategies specifically aimed at attracting and enrolling students from rural areas and small towns, aligning with Auburn's institutional goals for cultivating an Auburn Experience for exceptional students who demonstrate high levels of academic achievement and other indicators of ability. In addition to leading recruitment activities, this role includes managing communications, digital presence, and ongoing recruitment to bolster Auburn's rural and small town applicant pool.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Lead recruitment efforts targeted at rural students, focusing on increasing both applications and matriculations from these communities while analyzing and reporting on the effectiveness of these activities to continually refine strategies and ensure alignment with institutional objectives.
- Design, plan, and execute rural-specific recruitment programs to foster interest and facilitate the enrollment of students from rural and small-town backgrounds while partnering with the Director of Undergraduate Recruitment as Auburn University's liaison to the STARS College Network to develop strategic efforts aimed at increasing the enrollment of rural student populations.
- Regularly update the rural student webpage and associated communications to ensure relevance, accuracy, and appeal to the rural student demographic, while developing tailored messaging that addresses the unique concerns and interests of rural students and families to increase Auburn's presence and visibility in rural areas.
- Foster and maintain relationships with key rural stakeholders, including high schools, community organizations, and educational programs, while developing metrics and assessing recruitment efforts to build a robust annual increase in rural applicants and enrolled students.
- Serve on the admissions committee by reviewing student applications, providing recommendations for admission decisions, and contributing to the evaluation process to support Auburn's commitment to enrolling students who demonstrate high levels of academic achievement and other indicators of ability.
