JOB SUMMARY

Assists with investigations of complaints made pursuant to the University's nondiscrimination policies, including sexual misconduct and protected status discrimination or harassment.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Assists with drafting a series of notices and reports required throughout the investigatory process including Notices of Investigation, Preliminary Report, and Final Investigative Report. Ensures information is presented accurately and in an impartial and objective manner. Attends hearings as a witness as needed.
- Assists with gathering evidence for assigned cases and interviewing all parties involved in the complaint. Assists the lead investigator by ensuring only lawful and relevant questions are asked of the parties and witnesses. Takes detailed notes and keeps physical evidence organized for use in documentation and official reports of the case.
- Assists in conducting training sessions for employees and students on University policies regarding sexual and gender-based misconduct and discrimination, harassment, and retaliation related to race, age, color, religion, disability, national origin, and/or veteran status. Assists in training University students and employees on their rights and obligations associated with University policies. Assists in preparation and development of training sessions and program materials for University policies on Title IX and other civil rights topics.
- Maintains knowledge of regulations and guidelines set forth by the following: Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (and the amendments thereto), Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act (GINA) of 2008, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Jean Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act of 1990 (Clery Act), other federal and Alabama Civil Rights law, and University policies pertaining to civil rights protections and remedies.
- Assists with case management and tracking of assigned matters in the electronic management system; works with Case Coordinator to ensure case tracking and data management are accurate and timely.
- May represent the Office of Title IX and AA/EEO by attending various events on and off campus to include Graduate Assistant Orientation, Housing Resident Orientation, New Faculty Orientation, and the Resource Fair and by providing information regarding the University's policies on Title IX, discrimination, harassment, and other civil rights. Assists in the development of presentation materials to parents and students about Title IX at Camp War Eagle.
- Assists with University-wide threat assessments using a University-approved rubric; works with Campus Safety & Security and other units across campus on education, training, and compliance best practices regarding threat assessment and reporting.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Assists with other duties as assigned.

The responsibilities listed above show the typical duties for jobs in this classification. Actual tasks may differ depending on the department's needs.
