Job Summary

The Facility Security Officer (FSO) reports to the Chief Research Security Officer. The FSO provides management of the university's classified research portfolio and leads the protection efforts against malign foreign influence targeting the university's research programs. Serves as the Facility Security Officer (FSO), Contract Special Security Officer (CSSO), University Key Management Personnel (KMP), and Insider Threat Working Group member.

Essential Functions

1. Manages the classified security program to ensure compliance with federal security regulations as well as contractual agreements regarding the protection of classified information. Ensures full compliance with the National Industrial Security Program Operating Manual (NISPOM); Intelligence Community Directives (ICD); counterintelligence (CI) and cybersecurity laws; and policies and regulations.
2. Serves as a Subject Matter Expert (SME) in consulting university leadership, faculty, staff, and students in the realms of classified operations and foreign influence inquiries. Collaborates with law enforcement and other government agencies on confidential and sensitive security issues as necessary.
3. Educates and informs senior administrators, faculty, staff and students on their obligations for the protection and safeguarding of classified information through various forms of presentations, briefings or internal assessments.
4. Interprets and implements extensive government classified security regulations in support of the US government funded research program for Auburn University. Develops key processes and procedures to ensure the overall success and compliance of the research program through reporting, auditing, training and other means of accountability.
5. Coordinates with the Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP), campus community and 13 colleges within the university assessing proposals, agreements, and contracts to determine if classified information requirements are present.
6. Conducts risk assessments on international agreements, potential AU sponsored visa personnel and foreign national employee applicants to determine if possible/known malign foreign influence is a factor.
7. Performs other related duties as assigned by supervisor.

Supervisory Responsibility

May supervise employees but supervision is not the main focus of the job.

The above essential functions are representative of major duties of positions in this job classification. Specific duties and responsibilities may vary based upon departmental needs. Other duties may be assigned similar to the above consistent with the knowledge, skills and abilities required for the job. Not all of the duties may be assigned to a position.
